

It's "Crystal" clear!

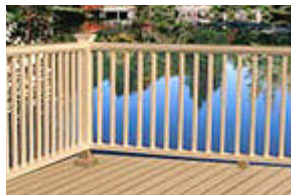

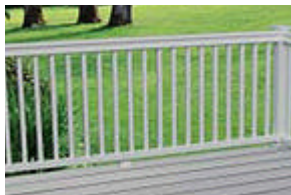

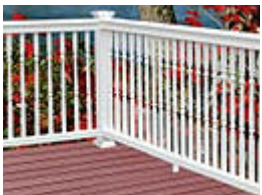

One screw will not do!

Don't gamble your future on a single screw.

Many pre assembled railing systems attach their balusters to the hand rail with one screw. That's all...one screw. If you're buying a railing system for your deck or porch, be sure to buy one with IBC, Integrated Ballister Construction. It prevents twisting, counteracts swelling and expansion, and supports the railing better than one screw.

Look for deck and porch railings with the IBC mark, a sign that your railing isn't "hanging by a thread"!
